

New Chief Operating Officer: Leandro Larroulet

Argentina, February 1st, 2017

FDV Solutions is pleased to announce its new COO: Leandro Larroulet. Graduated in Systems Analysis from Universidad de Buenos Aires (UBA), he joined the company in 2007 as a trainee developer to later serve as Project Leader (PL).

From his role of COO, Larroulet is responsible for the overall coordination of the company's operational area: monitoring and evaluation of equipment; design, planning and monitoring of trainings workshops; quality control of processes; recruiting supervision; billing and budget management, risk forecasting and conflict resolution.

From our collective culture, we understand that it is important to offer new opportunities and challenges to the company's professionals, for the benefit of their career plan: "We consider key that the talents that grew within the organization assume leadership roles and greater responsibility, as part of a growth and motivation policy for those ones who integrate this great team", explains Andrés Vior, CEO (and former COO) of FDV Solutions.
